Digging Deeper: Group Questions & Personal Reflection

1. What is your personal philosophy on sharing your faith? Is it something you do regularly? Does it fill you with fear? Do you feel compelled to share about your relationship with Christ with other people?
2. Have there been times that people may have felt driven away as a result of your faith in Christ? How can you overcome this? What did you learn? How does your relationship play into how they receive the message?
3. Are Christians guilty of sometimes trying to share the gospel using “christianeze” (churchy language)? What are some examples of this? Being able to share the gospel effectively is dependent on your ability to contextualize the gospel message for your hearer. How can you share the key aspects of the Christian faith while using a language they can understand?
4. The beautiful part of evangelism is that it’s God that does the changing in a person’s heart, not you. How does this free you to share about your faith in Christ with more boldness?
5. Who are the people that God is calling you to share the message of the gospel? On Sunday we passed out “Top Three” Cards. Who is on your list? How are you going to reach them?
