

From this day forward

Week 1:

The Covenant

I believe the Bible is the Word of God and that everything in it is absolutely true.

I believe that God brought us together for His purpose.

I believe that we are together until one of us goes home to Him.

I yield all my earthly love to you and through you to our other family members.

I place myself under God's oversight and will be faithful to you forever in all ways.

I promise to pursue God and His goals for us in all the days He provides.

You are God's gift to me. I love you.

Digging Deeper: Group Questions & Personal Reflection

1. How often do you spend in prayer with your spouse on a regular basis? What impact does this have on your relationship? If you don't have a rhythm of praying together, make a plan to make this a priority.
2. Talk about the "land mines" in your relationship. How do you defuse them with each other? How do you get past them when one goes off?
3. Looking forward about 2 years, what are your dreams and hopes for each other? Both individually and together. How does your walk together with Christ reflect in your vision?
4. Read Ephesians 5:15-21. Spend time explaining what you believe the 21st verse means for you in this context. How does your reverence for Christ impact the way you engage each other?
5. Have each couple read through the Covenant above and take it home to pray about it before agreeing to sign it.
